Our Definition of Bullying

Bullying (including online) includes a range of abusive behaviour from an individual or group that is:

- Repeated
- Intended to hurt someone either physically or emotionally.
- Often aimed at certain groups, for example because of race, religion, gender or sexual orientation

Bullying can occur both in and out of school.

We believe that:

- Children and young people should never experience abuse of any kind
- We have a responsibility to promote the welfare of all children and young people, to keep them safe and to practise in a way that protects them.
- Bullying is closely related to how we respect and recognise the value of diversity

We recognise that:

- Bullying causes real distress
- It can affect a person's health and development and, at the extreme, can cause significant harm. All children, regardless of age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation, have the right to equal protection from all types of harm or abuse
